Dear Parents,

As you are aware as parents, children can suffer from a wide range of allergies. Currently in school we have a few children with nut allergies with one severe case in particular where even the slightest contact with nuts (even with a table that had nuts on it) can lead to severe allergic reactions. As a precaution, we have decided to become a 'nut-free school' and therefore kindly ask that children don't bring nuts into school please. We hope parents and children understand our reasons for making this decision.

Yours faithfully,

Mr S. Cox
Headteacher
